PRESIDENTIAL STATEMENTS

Washington, D.C.

Number 1

May 2, 1983

Central America

Let me say to those who invoke the memory of Vietnam. There is no thought of sending American combat troops to Central America; they are not needed -- indeed, they have not been requested there.

- Address to the joint session of Congress, April 27, 1983

Education

Government seemed to forget that education begins in the home where it's a parental right and responsibility. Both our private and our public schools exist to aid your families in the instruction of your children. For too many years, people here in Washington acted like your families' wishes were only getting in the way. We've seen what that "Washington knows best" attitude has wrought....

- Radio address to the nation, April 30, 1983

Nicaragua

The ultimate in hypocrisy is for the unelected Nicaraguan government to charge that we seek their overthrow when they are doing everything they can to bring down the elected government of El Salvador...

But let us be clear as to the American attitude toward the government of Nicaragua. We do not seek its overthrow. Our interest is to ensure that it does not infect its neighbors through the export of subversion and violence.

- Address to the joint session of Congress, April 27, 1983

Nuclear Power

But while we're understandably caught up in our concerns for control of nuclear weapons, we mustn't lose sight of the tremendous peaceful benefits that nuclear science has brought us over the decades.... Nuclear energy now plays, and will continue to play, an important role in meeting our nation's energy needs.

- Enrico Fermi Award Ceremony, April 25, 1983

Nuclear Weapons

While we might speculate on what the world would be like had nuclear weapons never been developed, we can't wish them away. And that's why I have challenged America's scientists and engineers to search for ways by which these weapons systems might eventually be rendered obsolete.

- Enrico Fermi Award Ceremony, April 25, 1983

Press Coverage

It's true that one approach to news is the man-bites-dog principle. If it's unusual, bad or bizarre, then it's newsworthy. Maybe there's another kind of news as well, the kind that lifts our spirits by providing insights into the kind of people we are and the kind of society that we live in.

- Remarks to American Newspaper Publishers Association Convention, April 27, 1983

Taxes

Right now, with this recovery at the stage it has reached, no one should be talking about increased taxes. This would be a good way to set back or cancel out the recovery.

- Interview with USA Today, April 26, 1983

Volunteerism

You know, ever since de Tocqueville wrote with awe... about the spirit of American volunteerism, the spirit of neighbor helping neighbor, visitors have been astonished by the kind of gumption and get-up-and-go of American volunteers.

- Remarks to American Newspaper Publishers Association Convention, April 27, 1983
